Upland Will Be Center of Attention in State
During Event

John Steven McGroarty, author and producer of the famous Mission play, writer and leader in many historic events, will speak in Upland at the unveiling of the Madonna of the Trails monument on February 1. Mrs. Frank Lemon, regent of the San Antonio chapter of the D. A. R., announced today.

While national and state D. A. R. officials will be on the program, the Southern California notable will be the principal speaker.

Securing of Mr. McGroarty means much to the program that will mark the dedication of the road marker here. Across the continent along the route of the Old Trails road, 12 monuments have been and are being erected under the supervision of the D. A. R. chapters.

One is placed in each state, California's being located here. So this city will have state attention on that day. Importance of this event is recognized by Mr. McGroarty's acceptance of the invitation to speak here. In his letter to Mrs. Lemon, he described the unveiling as a notable event.

The unveiling program will follow a parade, which will move toward Upland at 1:30 o'clock.

The road marker will be located on Euclid avenue at Foothill boulevard.

Ontario Will Act on Taking Out Dip

Back to Ontario it goes—the question of improving the intersection at Tenth street and San Antonio avenue. The Ontario city council on Monday will consider a communication from the Upland city council, pointing out that if Ontario will cooperate on the improving of Tenth street, Upland will assist on San Antonio avenue, thereby removing the dip.

FALLING BOULDER TAKES LIFE OF 15-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Miss Bernice Walker of Santa Ana Is Victim of Sad Tragedy

As the result of an accident which occurred near Camp Baldy Tuesday afternoon, Miss Bernice Walker, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Walker, of Santa Ana, died at 1:30 Wednesday morning at the San Antonio Community hospital, where she was rushed following the tragedy.

In company with her parents and a party of other young people, Miss Walker was spending the day at Camp Baldy and at the time of the accident was participating in a hike up a nearby mountain trail. Failing to hear the warning shouts of her companions, the girl, who stood directly in the path of a boulder which had become loosened and bounded down the steep mountain side, was struck on the head and her skull was fractured. She was rushed to the San Antonio Community hospital, where she was attended by Dr. J. B. Craig and Dr. C. W. Rand, of Los Angeles, who was called in consultation, but she failed to rally and died without regaining consciousness.

The mother, Mrs. Walker, who had not left her daughter's bedside, was prostrate with grief and it was necessary to give her medical attention.

The body of the accident victim was taken to Santa Ana and funeral and interment will take place in the home city.

The chapter had previously paid $500 toward general expenses of the national officers, connected with the location of the monument here.

Even Babies Prefer California Oranges

California oranges are the best, everybody knows that, even the babies! C. H. Post has a very good story to tell about the oranges of this state. He says his neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Alford, have a niece in Cleveland, Ohio, who believes in the benefits of orange juice for her six-month-old baby daughter. For several weeks the wee one had taken her California orange juice with a smile and a give-me-more smack of the lips. Then, the supply of California oranges being depleted, Florida oranges were substituted and the juice offered the baby. But an indignant cry was the only response and the baby flatly refused to take her orange juice until she was again provided with oranges from California.

Rollin Lemon motored to Garden Grove Wednesday morning taking his sister, Elizabeth to her school in that city. Miss Lemon has plans made to join a party in June to tour Europe. The group will be made up of college people and will sail from New York City.

Mac Writes to Atwood's

Showing the good feeling that exists among Upland merchants and emphasizing the importance of the J. J. Atwood company's semi-annual clearance sale to the community, a letter sent to the Atwood company, yesterday by P. H. McQuillen, known in business as "Mac, The Medicine Man, Inc.," reads as follows:

GREETINGS TO THE J. J. ATWOOD COMPANY!
Just a neighborly note to inform Owen, Glen, John Jacob, and friendly souls that just naturally make us feel at home in either Atwood institution, we are de-lighted to see the grand old function start off today with the vim and vigor so characteristic of an Atwood Sale. What Mac and His Trusty Crew want to get over to you is—that such HONEST TO—merchandising efforts as an Atwood Sale is helping to build a trading center out of the Old Village and that it is good not only for Atwood Company but for The Human Service Station, and every other business house and property owner in this Citrus City.

We want you to know that we appreciate such high class and friendly neighbors—so we want to buy You-all a drink. Consequently We-all figured that we'll put on the Coffee Pot and serve you folks—all of you—a fatigue-relieving cup of Real Java, beginning at 3:30 p.m. today—which is—just about N O W. Just straggle in as you can during the next hour. If any of the gang don't like coffee, we will shoot 'em something else.

Cheerfully yours,

MAC AND HIS TRUSTY CREW.

With the compliments and good wishes of The Fountain of Youth.—MAC SAYS SO!

P. S.—Saturday—next—we will advertise and feature an Atwood Sale luncheon.

Flowers To Be Planted On Pacific Electric Route Through Upland

Flowers are to be grown on the Pacific Electric right-of-way through Upland.

The transportation company made the offer to plant and care for the flowers if the city would assist in furnishing water. The city council expressed an appreciation for the offer and instructed Richard G. Manley, city engineer, to work out the details.

The beautification program will extend from Euclid avenue to Eleventh avenue. The council will gladly furnish the water and there may be some compromise in supplying the water pipes.

NISBET WILL HEAD PARADE PLANS FOR MONUMENT EVENT

Extensive Preparations To Be Made For Unveiling of Road Marker

LEGION ENTERS FLOAT

D. A. R. Chapters Planning
Historical Program For February 1

Planning to make the parade and pageant preceding the unveiling of the Madonna of the Trails monument February 1 one of historic interest, colorful and an outstanding production, the committee in charge today named Gene Nisbet parade manager and director.

All attention of the civic leaders and organizations will be directed toward making the parade and the unveiling one of the greatest events ever held in the West End.

Mr. Nisbet is experienced in historical costuming, has at hand information of the early California settlers and ideas that are expected to bring recognition to the community.

The appointment of Mr. Nisbet starts a period of intensive preparations looking to the event. While the general arrangements for the program are in charge of the San Antonio and Los Serranos chapters of the D. A. R., a local committee is preparing the parade and pageant plans.

The Upland post of the American Legion is the first local organization to announce its plans for entering a float in the parade. D. A. R. chapters throughout the southland are planning to enter exhibits, in addition to many other California organizations.

Clair E. Kirk, secretary of the Upland chapter of commerce, is handling all preliminary arrangements for the event, other than the actual program, and Mr. Nisbet will work with Mr. Kirk.

Col. H. J. Caldwell of Ontario will be the parade marshal, in charge of the parade floats on the day of marching through this city.

$25 Monthly Fee Levied on Auto Wreckers Here

In addition to keeping detailed records of all the cars purchased and demolished, Upland auto wrecking firms will have to pay a monthly fee of $25. This measure became a law last night with the final reading being given to an ordinance to that effect by the city council.

The records will be filed each month with the chief of police. The measure applies to the auto wrecking yard located on East Ninth street.

Shrubbery Will Be Taken From Site of Road Marker

The shrubbery on city property at Euclid avenue and Twelfth street will be removed by Richard G. Manley, city engineer, to a safer location.

This is the site of the "Madonna of the Trails" monument and the shrubbery would be damaged if allowed to remain.

City Offering 28 Acres For Sale

Twenty-eight acres of city land is for sale today. The city council last night decided to place on the market two parcels, an eight-acre tract on Twenty-second street and a 20-acre tract on Twenty-third street, west of San Antonio avenue.

No price was announced for the smaller piece, but $350 an acre was the value on the 20 acres. The land was purchased for well sites. The eight-acre parcel is part of 10 acres purchased some time ago. No. 5 well is on the other two acres now.

December Had Only 3 Hours of 30-Degree Cold

Everyone knows that Upland has so far been free from any general smudging so far this winter.

Not all may know that during December, 1928, there was only a total of three (one, two, three) hours when the thermometer registered below 30. We get these figures from the Liberty Groves Operating Corporation.

When one recalls that few start to smudge until it drops to 28, you can see why Uplanders feel that they are indeed very favorably situated with regard to frost peril.

CHURCHES OF WEST END MAY LAUNCH LOYALTY CRUSADE

15 Denominations Represented at Meeting at Ontario

As the result of a meeting of representatives of fifteen churches at the First Christian church at Ontario Thursday evening a Loyalty Crusade, similar to one recently followed in Los Angeles with great success may be launched by the West End churches.

Following a dinner and address by Dr. Dowie, who had charge of the Los Angeles campaign, fourteen out of the fifteen churches represented endorsed the plan suggested and voted to submit it to their churches and if it is endorsed to enter into the campaign in the near future. In such an event Dr. Dowie will have a series of preparatory conferences. Congregations will be divided in these groups: pastors, special workers, church school, young people, women, and men. If the plans carry out the extensive campaign will begin in the middle of February and will be concluded on Easter Sunday.

Those representing this community were: Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Staveland, Miss Anna Beall Clark, Everett Henry, W. F. Naftel, J. E. Engle, Dr. W. I. Doole, R. T. Baldwin, F. E. O'Brien, and H. S. Bailey, and from San Antonio Heights, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. McCartney and Rev. Alfred Wiebe.

J. L. Hastings Sells Residence to C. E. Tyler

J. L. Hastings says he has no doubt that the people read the Upland News classified column. He recently ran a for sale advertisement in three issues of The News, and as a result he has just sold his $4000 home at the corner of Fifth avenue and Pine street. Considering the small charge made for the advertisement, Mr. Hastings says the returns were highly satisfactory.

The Hastings property was purchased by C. E. Tyler, 579 Third avenue, who will move his family to his new property and will make his home there.

Mr. Hastings will move to his home at 123 West Nevada, Ontario, but will retain his interest in Upland, as he is the owner of other property here.

20-30 Club Will Sow Wild Flowers On Euclid Avenue

Wild flowers will be sown on Euclid avenue north of Twelfth street, under the direction of the Upland 20-30 club.

The city council last night discussed plans for beautification when Lorraine Loch, president of the club, appeared before the group, and told of the club's desire to help.

A variety of California wild flower seed will be sown. When the flowers reach maturity, they will be plowed under and again seeded, according to the plan.

HANSON WELL WILL BE CONNECTED TO CITY IN NEW PLAN

Right-of-Way For Pipe Line to Twenty-Second Street Is Sought

COURT ACTION STARTED

City's Water System Will Be Tested in Readiness For Next Summer

Tapping new sources of water supply for Upland residents, the city council last night set in motion machinery that will eventually connect the present water system with the Hanson well, located on Twentieth street, directly north of the Red Hill Country club.

Purchased by the city two years ago, from G. A. Hanson, this well last season was leased to the San Antonio Water Company.

The first step in connecting the city with the well is the securing of a right-of-way for a pipe line and proceedings for that phase of the work were ordered started last night. Connection with the well will be made to the pipe line at Sixteenth street near Euclid avenue.

The right-of-way sought is through land owned by the San Antonio Water company. Unless an agreement can be reached, the property will be sought in the regular court proceedings, according to Richard G. Manley, city engineer and water superintendent.

Then the pipe line will be laid and connection made with the well. It is hoped by the city officials that this water will be available for use if it is needed next summer.

It is not the plan of the city officials to use much of this water, only to have connection made so that it will be available when a crisis arises.

For weeks the city council has discussed the city water proposition and in the meantime, Mr. Manley and Ted C. Combs, his assistant, have made a survey of the basins and planned for the future in providing a sufficient supply.

In preparation for next summer's demand for water, all the wells will be tested and necessary repairs made.

The Hanson well is officially designated as "No. 6." There are three other city wells.

BANTER FEATURES LIONS' MEETING

Milton Huxtable Chairman of Session Yesterday;
Many Speak

Milton Huxtable, program chairman for the Lions club meeting in The Sycamores at noon yesterday, appeared at the meeting without any advanced program planned, but through his executive ability, he enlisted the support of the Lion members to make the session one of the most jovial ever held.

Reminiscences by several of the members and impromptu and fitting jesters featured the opening, with President Wiley Mather in charge. The banter continued when the gavel changed hands.

A duet by Norman Lawson and Earl Johnson, remarks by Chief of Police J. F. Sawyer, Rev. Bert Foster, A. W. Burt, Ralph Alquist, Leigh Thompson, Herbert Naylor, Bruce Bower and Ray W. Flickinger were included in the program.

Fred Draper, secretary, announced that the Orange Belt council of Lions club will meet in Riverside on Monday.

Legion Clubhouse Is Being Remodeled

Earl Marsh was in charge of planning the changes and Al Ledig is doing the construction work. Manker & Benson firm is in charge of the finishing touches.

TODAY'S BIBLE TEXT

And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.—Philippians 4:4-7.

There is Only One Like It

Undignified as it was and all that, along with countless (at least we could not count them) other people, we sat on the grass, near a Pasadena curbing, for practically four hours Tuesday, to see that matchless Tournament of Roses parade. We could easily sit here in a softer spot and write columns about it, but we won't do it. Just asked one of the office young ladies how much to write, and she said: "Don't say too much." Women have intuition, so we will keep it down.

The biggest thrill we got out of that never-to-be-forgotten day was something you would never guess. Our point of vantage was alongside the Santa Fe tracks, and several times the traffic men "shooed" from the tracks hundreds of people in order to let trains get by. After waiting for two and a quarter hours the parade came by—bazzling, glorious, resplendent, immeasurably beautiful. For a straight hour and a half the floats, the bands, the moving figures, the royally-trapped horses, the millions of flowers went by, surfeiting the soul and mind with the rapture of it all. About mid-way of the passing of the parade the line was held up by the coming of a transcontinental train. A marvelous float stopped directly next to the tracks. Out on its three-days' trip from Chicago—onward and westward, toward the setting sun—the flyer had come, speeding at last through those long, weary, vast, silent stretches of the Mohave desert, then breaking into the orange groves that lie in and west of San Bernardino. Car by car the train now moved slowly along past the Rose parade. Against the windows pressed the faces of the travelers. That was the master thrill of the day for us. Twice had we come west on that same railroad and twice had we known what it meant to come from those limitless, barren, rocky, open spaces, into the unspeakable beauty of California. We shall never forget the first sight we had of orange-laden trees.

So there we sat, tears in our eyes, just thinking of those incoming tourists, visioning a cross-section of the one and only Pasadena Tournament of Roses. Stretching out from those car windows were those throng-lined streets of packed-in humanity and that line of emotion-stirring floats with their gardens of flowers. From those windows peered the faces of many who had come to California for the first time. Of them we thought. Would not they be stirred to the depths at such a spectacle of amazing beauty. Truly they would say: "How wonderful is California! The half has not been told!" We can pay no finer tribute to the glorious New Year's flower fete.

Running the Wrong Way

The big sensation of the New Year's day football game at the Rose Bowl at Pasadena Tuesday was the "boner" play of Captain-elect Roy Riegels of the University of California team, who lost the game for his team by getting a brainstorm and running 66 yards the wrong way. The safety that followed gave the boys from Georgia the fatal two points that eventually proved to be the margin of victory.

We saw this now historic play and shall not soon forget it. Sitting at the north side of the field and directly back of the goal posts, we watched Riegels come tearing down the field. Straight at us he came and we had a brainstorm ourselves, trying to figure out what it was all about—a player running like mad in the opposite direction to that in which he should go. Finally our football sense told us what it told the thousands of others—that we had seen one of the plays you read about but seldom see.

Some people profess to think that Roy Riegels will be "heart-broken" for life because he made that terrible blunder and cost his university a possible victory in a game which the whole country was watching. That is nonsense. Roy got mixed and ran the wrong way. Some of his teammates also were confused and gave him interference as he started his wild gallop. The wonder to us is that more football men don't get baffled in the heat and bruising of the game and run the wrong way.

Most of us are like Roy Riegels. We run the wrong way and think we are making a touchdown for ourselves when all we are doing is pulling a fool play that helps the other fellow. The difference between Roy and the rest of us is simply this: Seventy thousand people don't yell themselves hoarse watching us run the wrong way and we don't get our names in all the papers of this great U. S. A. We run the wrong way and finally get tackled from behind by our wife or some good friend and realize what a champion "boob" we are. Fortunately for our feelings, the papers don't herald to the high heavens what colossal fools we are, but the fact is there, nevertheless.

We have played just enough football in the game of life to know that Roy Riegels should not be criticized for his great error. He is a bigger man than most of us who run the wrong way and then wake up to our tragic mistake. Riegels, in spite of the humiliation that must have overcome him, came back in that second half to play a remarkable game. He redeemed himself. Do we do as well after our "boner" plays? Aye, there is the rub. Let's not razz Roy, but give ourselves "the rasp berry."

Does Beauty "Get the Breaks?"

We never won any beauty prizes—nor did many of you. So we herewith write an editorial that should have something of interest to that great gang of us who have more sense than good looks.

Does beauty "get the breaks in life?" Are unusual good looks a help or a handicap in winning our way?

A fine looking chap just came into The News office. We had to gasp at his whole "set-up" of good looks. He was big and broad-shouldered, wearing a "double-breasted" suit that accentuated his fine frame. He vibrated good health and cheer and smiled like a million dollars. His shirt and necktie were a symphony of blue to match the suit. He was only two hours away from a good shave and less removed than that from a one-hundred per cent hair combing.

After this Apollo left this office, we said to the book-keeper, "Well, wasn't he good to look at?" She said: "Yes, beauty gets the breaks."

Now, folks, there's the proposition. Do the dazzling good-looking folks—or even just the good-looking ones—get a better whack at the good things of life than the rest of us? We are not answering the question—just asking you.

Personally, for the sake of the argument, we stay by the homely boys. The most brilliant editor we know back in our old state of Michigan is short and fat and red-faced. The three editors of California who have made the most impression on us line up as follows: No. 1, tall and commanding but with no sign of a "pretty" face. We haven't seen him for some time, but think he has a big nose and a real Adam's apple. No. 2, not so tall but not at all short; no Apollo whatever, just a solid-looking man, with rather a "care-worn" face. No. 3, just a "shrimp" of a fellow; weight under 130, if we are a good guesser. About as big as a thin dime. Not there at all with good looks, but smart as they make 'em. All of the trio are leaders of Southern California and none of them got there by virtue of good looks. That is all we have time for today. Homely folks need no defense—they just get there by sawing wood and forgetting that they are not handsome.

Feeding Prejudices

Hemet News—When one stops to think of it, most of us who boast of being broadminded are anything but that. Otherwise, how can we account for the fact that we are seldom interested in reading "the other side" of any question.

We read almost exclusively such books, periodicals and newspapers as we know in advance will generally coincide with our views. Few Republicans subscribe for a red-hot Democratic newspaper, or vice versa. People take church papers only of their own denomination. Capitalists take few labor papers, and laboring men would hardly look at one that reflects the capitalistic viewpoint. In other words, we all have our more or less confirmed opinions on nearly every important subject and do not admit that there may be some virtue in the contentions of those who take an opposite view.

As a recent writer has said: "The only facts we can tolerate are those we already know." We read, not to really learn something new, but for the purpose of confirming ourselves in our present beliefs and prejudices.

NEW QUEEN OF THE MAY
"You must wake and call me early—call me early, mother dear." That was often said to mothers by the girls of yesterday. But the girls now tell the mothers, as they start out for a spin, "You must wake up early, mother, someone's got to let me in." Judge.

One way to make the punishment fit the crime would be to have every man who criticizes the modern apparel of women sentenced to spend one hour every day looking through the old family album.—Louisville Times.

The New Year ---

What Does It Bring?

SOMETHING NEW of course—new days—new friends—new ideas—new STYLES—of a certainty, NEW STYLES. That is taken for granted the minute old Father Time makes his final bow.

And already NEW STYLES are beginning to make themselves felt. Here at Sievers we have been aware of the coming change for some weeks. Spring is on the way—and soon it will be our pleasure to show you all the beautiful styles that spring has to offer. We hope they will be as pleasing and satisfactory to you as they give promise of being to us.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

NOT merely another sale—but an outstanding event to the people of Pomona Valley.

Our policy dictates that we shall have but two sales a year, therefore they must be unusual and offer unusual values. Our January Sale, for this reason, should not be judged as "just another sale"—but as a great opportunity for the frugal shopper to save.

The Week in Nearby Southland Points

Arcadia—Arcadia realty dealers declare that sales of land and other real property in Arcadia and vicinity have shown considerable growth since the presidential election. Figures to prove their contention reveal that approximately $162,250 have been involved in real estate transactions here and immediate vicinity since November 6th.

Clermont—L. P. Judson was invited to ride on one of the pedigreed Arabian horses from the Kellogg stables in the Pasadena Rose Tournament. He told the stables manager that he would be glad to ride, if they wanted him to. "I'm 90 years old," he said, "and you can tell the crowd to try to pick me out." Mr. Judson has always loved horses and got much training during the Civil war when he was a rider in the cavalry.

Baldwin Park—With the filing of petitions to open and extend four streets on the south side of Baldwin Park it became apparent that more than $400,000 will be expended within the next few years on various street projects in this city. About $70,000 of this will be provided by the county for work on major highways and nearly 20 miles of streets will be improved, according to estimates compiled from records of the county road department.

Other Editors' Ideas:

What Boulder Dam Means
J. D. Dean in The Glendora Gleaner (speaking of Boulder Dam): Southern California can now go ahead with plans to care for a population five times, nay, ten times its present population. Los Angeles, which will be the chief benefactor of this great work, has already laid plans to use these waters. Her people have voted millions and surveys are being made to place the mighty aqueduct which will carry parts of that great river hundreds of miles from the dam in Arizona to Los Angeles. No mere money grabber can visualize the change that will take place when this great work shall have been accomplished.

Christmas Gifts

Tobias Larson in The Claremont Courier: I take credit for a more or less novel surprise Christmas gift for my wife. I sent my son a check for a trip home from Colorado for the holidays. He arrived Sunday morning. I met him at the train and when my wife came downstairs to get breakfast she found Stanley and myself calmly conversing in front of a cheerful grate fire.

Then Christmas day came a long call over the telephone from New York City. Lavinia was on the other end of the line. While the conversation was brief, it included all members of the family in turn, including Gyp, who barked vigorously, probably the only dog whose voice has ever gone over the wire from California to New York. It is a singular fact that the conversation was carried on in an ordinary conversational tone and yet audition was perfect. So all in all, we didn't need any jewels or sealskin coats to make Christmas a very happy day.

Waltonians Membership Gains 40 Per Cent in Drive

ROY CREIGHTON'S TEAM WINS DINNER FOR ADDING NAMES

Recognition Comes to Local Chapter For Building Up Organization

Coming within six members of its goal, the Old Baldy chapter of the Isaac Walton league membership contest closed this week, 121 names being added to the roll.

The membership team, "Rainbows", won and the "Brookies", the losing team, will pay its treat at the Davis cafe February 6, according to the plans made at the meeting of the group Wednesday night.

Roy Creighton is Upland chairman of the winning team. Leigh Thompson is general chairman of the membership drive.

The membership gain is an increase of nearly 40 per cent and this record has brought recognition to the local chapter as the leader in California from the standpoint of membership gain.

Further recognition of the activity of the local chapter will probably come when the annual election of the Orange Belt Council is held here January 16. From indications, Dave Vashinder, president of the local group, will be named council president.

John Tyler at Methodist Church Sunday Evening

John Tyler, one of the most outstanding converts of the Jerry McAuley Mission of New York, will occupy the pulpit at the First Methodist church on Sunday, Jan. 6, at 7:30 p. m. He has spoken in many churches throughout the country and is endorsed by leading ministers.

For 40 years he was a drunkard, a gambler and an outcast. Trying to break himself of his habits, he traveled five times around the world; and was six years a bushman in Australia. He is from one of Virginia's oldest families, a college and university man.

The public is cordially invited to attend and hear Mr. Tyler's remarkable address.

Sidelights On Upland Schools

Grammar School
Report cards were handed out Wednesday.

Flu is subsiding—only nineteen children absent yesterday.

All the grades observed some form of Christmas celebration in their rooms before school closed for the holidays. At the assembly gifts of fruit and vegetables were brought to the school and piled high on the table. These were distributed for local charity.

Next Monday afternoon, Harold Evans Kellogg, who was here last year with the Indian pictures, will present a motion picture program including:

Punting kangaroos in Australia; Pacific Seals and Sea-gulls; Eskimo Life and Seal Hunting; Scenes in New York Zoo including elephants, wildcats and trained monkeys; a Felix comedy.

Junior High School
Miss Ann Rohrig spent the holidays entertaining the "flu."

Attendance normal again after "flu" fluctuations.

A general assembly was held this afternoon. At this time a fine program was rendered by V. E. Anderson, violinist, and his wife, Mrs. Anderson, pianist. The latter is the piano instructor in the school.

A representative from the Curtis Publishing company visited the Junior high school yesterday and started a contest for magazines in the eighth grade. Three magazines, products of the Curtis Publishing company, will be solicited, The Ladies Home Journal, The Country Gentleman and The Saturday Evening Post. Last year the students earned $80 or $90. It has not been decided as yet for what purpose the fund will be used this year, but it will doubtless be for some helpful addition to the school equipment.

Mrs. Susan B. Mehl, dean of women at Chaffey, called together all the girls in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades in an interesting

Temperatures For Past Week

T. R. Woodbridge is nothing if not conscientious and true to a trust. Back from his long illness, he has gone to all the trouble to make out the temperature reports which have been missing from The Upland News, due to his being temporarily "shelved." We know that many of our readers watch these reports from the official thermometer at the Liberty Groves Operating Corporation and will, along with The News, be grateful for the true story of Upland's balmy climate during so-called winter months. Here is the story for the past five weeks:

This fine organization will be an all-inclusive league of the girls in these three grades and will encourage a spirit of broad democracy among the girls. Representatives from each class were elected to form a committee to decide on the constitution and details of organization.

Splendid Sessions at Woman's Club House—

The Law and Literature sections of the Upland Woman's club held very interesting sessions at the club house Wednesday afternoon. There were 16 women present, practically all of whom belong to both classes and who stayed throughout the two sessions.

The meeting of the Law section was one of the most interesting and instructive yet held, the members listening attentively to an able address by Wiley W. Mather, of Chaffey, who discussed the courts of California, their organization and various functions, and explained the laws governing each judicial division. Many questions were asked by the women and Mr. Mather replied with interesting details of the state laws that furnished valuable information.

The hour session of the Literature section, with Miss Lois Le Barron Avery presiding, provided a special treat for the members attending, the address being made by W. H. Kegley, of Chaffey, who discussed "Modern Types of Poetry." He read selections from poems by Robert Frost, Sandberg, Robinson and Edna Millay, affording a fascinating glimpse into the beauties of the work of these modern poets.

These study classes are always interesting and beneficial, and it is hoped a greater number of the club members will attend.

The regular club meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 8. The business meeting will be held at 2 p. m. and the program at 2:30. There will be an address on "Mental Health and Happiness," by Mary Brooks Eyre, of Pomona college.

Reynolds-Paddock

Party Visits Big Ship—

With a visit to the Virginia, the new all electrically equipped passenger ship, as their objective, an Upland party composed of W. C. Reynolds and two daughters, Betty and Mary Helen, and

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Paddock, motored to Wilmington Sunday morning and enjoyed an inspection of the great ship. In the afternoon they went aboard the giant seaplane carrier, the Lexington, and found an inspection of that great $85,000,000 vessel very instructive as well as interesting. In the evening the party returned by way of Los Angeles where they visited Mr. Paddock's mother who is ill in the White Memorial hospital.

While the entire trip was much enjoyed, the visit to the Virginia was of special interest. This big ship, said to be the second largest passenger ship afloat and the most luxuriously equipped ship now on the high seas, is the latest construction, the complete equipment of the entire vessel being electrical. The Virginia plies between New York and San Francisco, the trip being made in 16 days. The Upland party secured a special permit and were able to inspect the big floating palace from top to bottom.

Board of B. and P. Women's Club Meets—

The board of directors of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club met in regular luncheon session at the Upland cafeteria Wednesday noon. Several members were absent, but a quorum was present so the usual routine business was transacted, including the approval of a number of bills and voting on several new members, the following being accepted as members of the club: Mary C. McGilvra, teacher; Mrs. Esther D. Paine, stenographer; Miss Crystal Bowhay, teacher; Mrs. Effie Bowhay.

The board members present at the luncheon were: Mrs. Edna Swan, president; Mrs. C. E. Allen, Miss Helen Hilty, Mrs. Una R. Winter, Miss Leola Lee, Miss Elizabeth Fossett, Mrs. Lottie Fuller, and Mrs. Gertrude Thudium.

Young People Hold

New Year Watch Party—

With 36 young people in the party, members of the High School department of the First Methodist Sunday school, under the supervision of Miss Anna Beall Clark, motored up to the Presbyterian cabin beyond Camp Baldy and held a watch party New Year's eve, returning to Upland shortly after midnight. Another watch party was held by 25 members of the Young People's department of the Sunday school at the Ontario Methodist cabin in Ice House canyon and a very jolly time was reported.

Edith Cavell Chapter

To Meet Thursday—

Edith Cavell chapter, D. B. E., will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Walker, North Euclid, Ontario, Thursday, Jan. 10, at 2:30 p. m. Miss Moira Chaffee, regent, will preside at the business meeting, and the officers of the chapter will be the hostesses during the social hour.

Monthly Meeting of Club Tuesday Night—

The regular monthly meeting of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club will be held at the Davis cafe Tuesday night, beginning at 6:30. A very enjoyable program is being prepared and is in charge of Mrs. Oscar Gaither, Mrs. N. Samuel, Mrs. C. P. Mengle and Mrs. A. K. Baldwin. A reception for new members will be held and the winners of the membership contest announced.

New Year's Dinner

At Camp Baldy Cabin

A very pleasant New Year's gathering was held Tuesday at the Lamb and Allee cabin at Camp Baldy when a number of relatives gathered for a big turkey dinner, from which none of the usual complementing dishes was omitted, and for which the keen mountain air had whetted the appetites of the guests. The cabin is situated on the east side of the canyon and the sun does not reach it until late in the afternoon and under the protecting shadows quite a bit of snow is still lingering in the yard, much to the delight of the holiday party.

Those attending the gathering and enjoying the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Allee, and Mr. Allee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Joe Allee, California, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver, Ontario; Mrs. L. E. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miner, Miss Leona Hammer and Dr. E. R. Son, of Camp Baldy.

Golden Wedding

Is Happily Celebrated—

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Fussell, east Eighth street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in a very happy fashion on Sunday, Dec. 30. At the invitation of their sons and daughters, a company of relatives and friends gathered at the Sycamores and enjoyed an excellent turkey dinner, the principal item on the menu, the delicious turkey, being augmented with all the accompanying dishes that make such a dinner a complete success. The dinner table presented an unusually artistic picture with its handsome appointments of crystal and silver and as the centerpiece, a beautiful wedding cake. Gold was the predominating color in the decorations and beautiful golden streamers reaching from the cake to each place were attached to the cleverly executed place cards.

One remarkable feature of the celebration was the presence of Mrs. Emma R. Neidig and Mrs. Sade R. Basford, who were matrons of honor at the Fussells' wedding 50 years ago.

At the conclusion of the dinner at The Sycamores, the company returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fussell where a happy social time was enjoyed until late in the evening. The honorees received many very beautiful gifts.

Those enjoying the happy event with Mr. and Mrs. Fussell were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert R. Fussell, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Fussell, of Redlands; Mrs. Emma R. Neidig, Mrs. Sade R. Basford, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fussell and sons, Robert and Kenneth, of Riverside; and Miss Georgia Fussell and Miss William Fussell of Cucamonga.

Young People Enjoy

New Years Eve Party—

Gathering Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. Eymann, 908 Washington Boulevard, members of the Young People's society of the Mennonite church held a watch party, which proved to be a very jolly affair. During the hours of waiting merry games were played and late in the evening refreshments were served. The young people saw the new year's telly ushered in before dispersing for their homes.

Loren Long's Honor

Guests at Dinner—

With Mr. and Mrs. Loren Long, recently returned from their honeymoon, as the guests of honor, Mr. Long's mother, Mrs. M. L. Stamm, 942 Third avenue, entertained with a 1 o'clock dinner Sunday. Lovely sweet-peas in pastel shades formed the centerpiece on the prettily appointed table where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Loren Long, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kent, Mrs. Minnie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Davis, Harlan Davis, Harold Long and Mr. and Mrs. Shamm.

Annual Banquet At

Bethany Union Church—

With an attendance of nearly 90 guests the annual New Years banquet was held Tuesday at the Bethany Union church, San Antonio Heights. The president of the Ladies Aid of the church, Mrs. C. E. Gamsby, presided as master of ceremonies and in addition to introducing those who had part in the program, she presented to Mrs. Bert Foster, a bouquet of lovely roses as a birthday gift.

The speaker of the day was Rev. Bert Foster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, who delivered a very interesting New Years address. Frank Hewlett, Miss Esther Hewlett and little Jane Ellen Kuhlman entertained with a number of musical numbers.

A committee, of which Miss Maude Forbes was chairman had the church beautifully decorated, pepper boughs, poinsettias and red berries being used. The table at which the excellent dinner was served, was also prettily arranged. At the opening of the banquet community singing was enjoyed, being led by Mrs. Gamsby with Mrs. William Littlewood at the piano.

New Year Dance

At Country Club—

The annual New Year's eve dance was held at Red Hill country club Monday night, with an attendance of nearly 200 guests, many of them being members of specially arranged parties. The club house was bright with the seasonal decorations and brilliant lights and the orchestra, Parnall's Californians, with its excellent music drew the dancers to the floor again and again until a late hour. An excellent dinner was served to 125 guests and others came later for the dancing, increasing the number of dancers to 100 couples.

John Palmer says there has been a gradual increase in the use of bicycles in the past few years and that this Christmas there were more "bikes" sold than for five years.

Never saw him draw anything before except a Dividend Check or Ice-creamy-soda

This is our first offense in alleged comics, but we intend to perpetrate them regularly. From time to time we are going to offer a few prizes for your opinions as to which are the best and possibly worst.

It may be that we will insist that you cut these out of The News and mount them. The main query will be—Do you get any KICK out of them?

Building and Loan Election
Cucamonga Building and Loan Association will hold their annual election of officers for the ensuing year Tuesday evening, Jan. 8th, at 7 p. m. in the offices of the association in the Kincaid building, Archibald ave.

Young Couple Wed.
A wedding of interest to many friends of the young couple was solemnized in San Bernardino last Thursday, when Chas. L. Yandell, of Ontario, claimed as his bride, Bess M. Phillips, a resident of Reid avenue, Cucamonga. A honeymoon to Long Beach followed the ceremony, and upon their return last Sunday, the newly-weds are making their future home in Ontario.

Mrs. W. H. Converse, of N. Hellman ave., enjoyed the holiday week-end at the home of her daughter Mrs. Franklin Ruth, Euclid ave., Ontario.

Mrs. Gilbert Dize, who has been severely ill for some time at the home of her daughter Mrs. E. A. Marshall, N. Euclid ave., is now very much better and able to sit up for a part of each day.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hiwely and family, returned home Christmas night after spending the Yuletide holiday with Mrs. Hiwely's father, E. K. Rust and his daughter in Long Beach.

Mrs. W. J. Kincaid left Sunday to spend several days in Long Beach, visiting her sister, Mrs. David Keyes, who has been ill. On the New Year's holiday she joined Mr. Kincaid at the home of their cousin, Tom Graham, at Pasadena, and enjoyed the Rose Tournament parade. Mr. Kincaid motoring in from Cucamonga for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Jamison have been hosts on several occasions recently at their attractive home in Archibald ave., dinner guests on Christmas day, numbering eleven, arriving from San Bernardino, Colton Road and Ontario. On New Year's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McVoy, of Highgrove, were expected guests at the Jamison home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and children, Rex and Louise, of Carnelian street, were holiday guests at the home of Mrs. Thomas' sister up in Tulare county, making the trip up on Sunday and returning home Tuesday evening. They report the trip over the Ridge Route a real Christmas experience, when they encountered snow all along the ridge, the young folks enjoying a snow-balling treat.

TRAVELS IN SOUTH AMERICA

BY HENRY REESE, OF UPLAND

(Editor's note—Herewith is the third installment of the "travels" being written for The Upland News by Henry Reese of this city. He and his mother recently returned from a trip that covered every country of that great land.)

The End of the Shoestring Republic

It was indeed a stroke of pure good luck which enabled the officials of the cruise to procure the services of one Captain Molgaard to pilot us on a route hitherto unknown to passenger vessels.

We were the first passenger ship, and the largest ship of any kind to traverse the gorgeous Straits of Trinidad.

It requires but a look at a map to note the long row of islands lining the southwestern coast of South America, which resembles the row forming the inland passage to Alaska.

The water was as placid as a lake. Purples, dark greens and browns predominated in the nearer islands. Then barren, snow-white or wood-brown mountains of solid stone. These were rendered beautiful by the queer formations of the rocks. Rising beyond are blue and black mountains capped with snow or blue glaciers, and coated by a light mist, with dabs of clouds sometimes fringing the coat of mist low on the mountains, and sometimes cutting the tops from view. Here and there little inlets open new vistas of vast reaches of calm water, hemmed, in the distance, by beautiful peaks.

That evening we anchored because of the danger of this passage.

A group of Indians immediately appeared in an old lifeboat, and begged for anything we would give them.

To excite compassion, they stripped their children before reaching our ship. When they left they were loaded with clothing, candy, and food of all sorts.

The next morning they reappeared, with their babies again stripped. They received nothing.

Shipwrecks add to the picturesque, as well as providing evidence of the danger of the channel.

It was clear and light at nine that night, as though it were just sunset.

Magallanes, better known as Punta Arenas, Chile, is "back-woods." It was cool, of course, but nothing to what we had expected. It is nothing more nor less than the farthest south civilized city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Tuttle and Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Moore, Euclid avenue, enjoyed the Tournament or Roses at Pasadena Tuesday.

Win Five Firsts

Five firsts out of five entries is the record of L. N. Kirk's red Leghorn entries at the Los Angeles poultry show this week, it was announced today.

Next week the birds will be sent to Salt Lake to enter the poultry show in that city. Nine fowls form the five entries that are winning fame for the local postmaster and poultry fancier.

Granada Features
Bernice and Her
Madcaps Tonight

"A Seaside Flirtation," a happy farcical comedy, is the new bill of fare at the Granada theatre tonight and Saturday, presented by Bernice and her Madcaps, as a super-feature Happy New Year attraction.

Do you like to see pretty girls in summery evening frocks dancing and singing on the stage?

Do you enjoy hearing the new numbers sung by well trained voices? Do you love "Sonny Boy," "Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder," or "Mystery of Life"? You heard the Madcaps do some of those last week, but with their new bill, they redouble the beauty and charm of their song and dancing numbers.

Is it a clean show? Yes! From the fresh smartness of the costumes to the pretty faces of the girls—it is! Can you come and bring the children? Yes, and at high figures.

Not one line or number throughout the entire fifty minutes of fun but will charm both the old and the young.

"Seaside Flirtations," a merry, airy, breezy comedy of life at the seashore, furnishes a setting for the new, snappy offering of Bernice and Her Madcaps at the Granada theatre Friday and Saturday, January 4 and 5.

Citrus groves changing hands—and at high figures.

Packing Houses Add Improvements To Handle Huge 1929 Crop

ER YIELD OF ANGES, LEMONS USES ADDITIONS

Associations Ready to Premium Fruit to World Markets

ons and many improve-to the citrus packing in and near Upland are in readiness to handle ay be the largest crop at from the West End to markets, a survey among ous associations revealed.
d hundred persons will engaged in picking, pack-shipping the world's best to demand premium
Some of the packing started to work this week 1929 crop. Actual work bulk of the harvest will started, however, until the month.

Enabling the storage of 105-000 more gallons of oil than formerly, the Mt. View Fruit Association, has completed the erection of a tank near the Santa Fe tracks at Mountain avenue.
This association operates its own system of protection against the cold and the new tank adds more reserve strength to its force. This is the second tank to be used by the association, according to Earl Johnson, manager, and the addition was made necessary due to the increase in the acreage served.

In keeping with the growth of the citrus industry here, the Upland Heights Orange Association added a 36 by 100 foot addition to its plant on Euclid ave., near the Santa Fe tracks. This added space will be used for the storage of field boxes, E. C.
Rosenberger, manager said.

Machinery added to help in the handling of the 1929 crop includes an electric counter and strapping machine. Within two or three weeks, the growers belonging to this association will bring the operations of the packing house up to a near capacity.

While the Stewart Citrus Association has not added new equipment or space, it has been employing more than 20 persons since the close of the major orange picking season last year.
More than double this number will be used to put out the crop produced by the Stewart association growers.

The G. A. Hanson Fruit Company sends fruit to market almost every day, but the major activities will be started within 10 days, according to G. A.
Hanson. Forty-eight persons are working every day for this firm now, Mr. Hanson explained.

$10,000 Payroll
With a payroll of $10,000 last month, the Old Baldy Association is early getting in the midst of the orange picking season. R. O.
Foss, manager, said that picking of the 1929 crop started yesterday. One hundred and thirty persons are on the payroll now, and this number will be increased as the picking increases.

A new heating plant has been installed since summer.

Lemon Packers Swamped
A new lidding machine and a new packing belt, making four belts, have been added to the equipment of the Upland Lemon Grower's association packing house for use by the 90 packers.

This total of packers added to the number of pickers makes 200 on the payroll. Ten cars of lemons a day are being sent out by this throng of workmen.

New equipment installed by the Upland Citrus association is more evidence that the 1929 crop will be one of the biggest ever sent from this citrus city. Two new machines for stamping "Sun-kist" on the oranges, and an automatic strapping machine are the major improvements. The new markers have been placed in the east unit of the plant. Three were already in use.

Resurfacing of the floor in the office is under way now.

Picking and packing started today. Four or five cars a day will be made ready at the start, with the number being increased until the maximum will be reached early in February.
At that time approximately 500 persons will be on the payroll, 200 in the packing house and 300 in the field.

Two Associations Start Picking of 1929 Orange Crop

Two associations started picking and packing oranges this week, the Upland Citrus association this morning, and the Old Baldy Citrus association yesterday morning.
Both groups, which are among the largest in the West End, will be working up to capacity early in February, according to indications.

With the start of the oranges from the groves, cars carrying Upland's famous fruit to the world will bid for prices that will bring thousands of dollars to local growers.

Three Permits For Buildings Issued

Three building permits start the 1929 record. While the dwellings do not call for an extensive construction, the permits indicate the new year will be brisk for the carpenters and builders. The permits call for construction totaling $1150. They were issued to Simon Caldera, F. C. Dwyer, and R. Valadez.

Beulah College At A Glance

The Gospel Team is busy filling engagements made in various places.

Most of the non-resident students spent the holidays in Upland, their homes being at a great distance for home going.

A number of teachers and students attended the Rose Tournament at Pasadena Monday. Several carloads of them stopped en route to scale Mt. Wilson.

The Bryce Historical club met last evening at the home of

John K. Buckwalter, Eighth avenue, Mrs. Katie Smith, daughter of Bishop C. C. Burkholder of Upland, recently returned from her missionary field in India, spoke on some phases of life in India.

The following spent Christmas day at the Midnight Mission in Los Angeles: Frank Castle,
Oscar Racer, Margerie Boyer, Irene Haynes, Mattie Lutz and the Misses Alma and Miriam Cassel. The men assisted in the religious service and the women helped serve dinner in the dining room. At least 10,000 hungry men were served during the day.

The Christmas cantata, under the direction of the instructor in music, Roy F. Stevens, attracted a large audience Friday evening, Dec. 21. Miss Catherine Eyre carried the soprano solo parts, and Mr. Stevens the tenor solo. This production was exceptionally well rendered and is said to be the best group production ever given at the college. Mr. Stevens also has a voice studio in Pasadena.

During the Christmas vacation various groups of students made trips to the mountains. Some of the boys climbed to the top of Mt. Cucamonga. Coming down, they decided to climb down the side instead of following the trail. Finding the snow covered steeps too slippery, they were obliged to cut holes with their jack knives to gain a toe-hold, and altogether had a rather perilous descent and arrived scratched and rather bruised.

Rev. and Mrs. Joshua Bacon, Campus avenue, are expected home this week from San Diego, where they have been spending two weeks at the home of their son.

FIRST RAIN WILL BE SUNDAY, SAYS WEATHER PROPHET

Five Stormy Days in Month Predicted by Father Ricard

Sunday will see the first rain of the new year if Father Ricard, southland weather prophet, is correct in his schedule of warm and wintry days during the month.

Following is his schedule for the month:

January 5—New disturbances setting in; incipient cloudiness here and rain along the western border of northern Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

January 6—Possibly some rain in California also; storm moving away into Nevada, Utah and Arizona.

January 7—General clearing along the coast and the near interior.

January 8, 9, 10—Fair with frosty nights this side of the Sierras and the Cascades, but beginning to be disturbed along the northern coast.

January 11—Quite unsettled, with south winds and rains from north to south, possibly extending to Southern California and taking in large sections of the interior. Deep snows over the Sierras.

January 13—Clearing along the coast.

January 14—A shallow depression passing across the high north with its conjugate over Southern California and Arizona; but, on the whole fair on the general coast.

January 15, 16, 17—Fair and cold with thin clouds in the afternoon of the seventeenth.

January 18, 19—A rain bearing disturbance of some intensity landing on the Pacific slope, with fresh south winds over the land and the ocean.

January 20—Still subject to the same disturbance.

January 21, 22—Clearing, then fair and decidedly cold; getting disturbed on the twenty-second.

January 23, 24—Another disturbance of uncommon energy passing over the country from southern Alaska to San Diego and then on to Nevada, Arizona and Utah, delivering fair amounts of rain under south and southeast winds.

January 25—Still cloudy, with some clearings and scattered showers.

January 26—Mostly fair but unsteady.

January 27, 28—An oceanic rain bearing disturbance affecting especially Southern California, Arizona and Utah, it remaining mostly fair.

January 29, 30, 31—Fair and frosty.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Northrup of Long Beach and John G. Maurer of Los Angeles were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Bordwell Sunday.

Fred Anderson Sends "Potry" to Upland Friends

U. S. Radio Station, Nulato, Alaska, Dec. 4, 1928
The Editor,
The Upland News,
Upland, California.

Dear Sir,—Having found no better way to pass away the time, I have turned my hand to writing poetry and the result is a masterpiece of literature.

I am honoring your publication by giving it the first opportunity to print my literary triumph (or what have you).

It is quite beneath my dignity to accept a pecuniary offer, my only purpose being to uplift mankind.

I sincerely hope you are one of the few that can really appreciate good poetry when you see it.

Respectfully yours,

FRED W. ANDERSON.

Howdy, Folks! Here am I from Alaska,

But first, just a word in your ear like a message come over the wireless, Merry Christmas, A Happy New Year.

For us in the wilds near the Arctic Christmas weather rules eight months a year—

And when sixty below hits your chin strap, California's famed climate is dear.

But her sons are not just sunshine soldiers,
Nor "partic" as to where duty calls—

Though the zone be one clammy and torrid

Or as cold as the silence which falls.

On the harangue of post dinner speaker,
Long-winded and full of "Did I's"—

But then, I'm digressing, same like folks,
When I wanted to put you prime wise.

How we spend those long months of winter,
Where Ford has not made a sale, It must seem a helluva dump, sir,

'Till you've heard the rest of my tale.

Well, dances are quite common functions,
Held in a cabin nineteen by eleven—

When a company of thirty assemble,
Gosh! The smell is not spelt same as heaven.

And here is, I'm sure, where the ladies
Are anxious to know what's the style

In vogue with the Mesdames and Misses,
Rather squaws are their rank and SOME file.

Well, their toilets are many and varied,
Silken dresses have even been seen—

And they're quite up to date in curtailment,
But their breath beats their best fashion queen.

But at dancing they wiggle some anide,
And in old-fashion dances at that.

And if only our Henry could see them,
This old town would be sure on the map.

Ice cream freezers are quite a la mode here,
Though the taste in a sundae is queer.

Oil, tallow or lard and blueberries,

MRS. HUNGERFORD TAKEN BY DEATH

Resident Here Many Years Dies Wednesday at Ranch Home

Mrs. Arthur Hungerford, one of the well-known citizens of Upland, passed away at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, Jan. 2, at her ranch home on Seventeenth street, her death bringing sorrow to many friends throughout the community, where she and her family are widely known. For the past year her health had been impaired as the result of a slight stroke of paralysis, however, she was able to be about her home and each day enjoyed a ride in the fresh air. Shortly after Christmas she suffered an attack of acute indigestion and despite prompt medical attention and the loving care of relatives, aided by her own courage and patience, the attack proved more serious than her strength could withstand and at an early hour Wednesday morning she smiled and quietly and peacefully went to sleep, secure in her abiding faith in the peace and happiness of the eternal life into which she was entering.

Mrs. Hungerford was born in Dunhill, Canada, one of a family of eight, and the daughter of a prominent lawyer, who was a native of Albany, N. Y. She, with her husband, Arthur R. Hungerford, who died 10 years ago, had lived in Upland for about 22 years and had been prominent in many of the worth-while and progressive activities of the community. They were among the founders of St. Mark's Episcopal church and were staunch supporters of its activities. Mrs. Hungerford retaining her interest in church affairs up until her death. She was a woman of culture and refinement and her influence will long be felt, especially among the members of her church.

The surviving relatives to whom her death has brought deep grief, are a son, Beecher Follinsbee Hungerford, of Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. I. C. Baxter, and a nephew, Cleland Follinsbee Baxter, of Upland.

The funeral service will be held at Draper's Ontario chapel at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, with the Rev. Bert Foster, of St. Mark's Episcopal church, officiating. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Pass the tip to your drug clerk near.

Then we've skinned the whole zoo in our get-up.

As for instance I'll try describe mine:

First, the toque, be it bear skin or dog pup.

Gives a kudos, like "Prince of the line."

Then the "parkey"—and these can be swell things—

Are shaped like a flour sack, head down,

With sleeves and a hole for the head—brings

It's wearer a great coat or gown.

My hose, by great heck, you should see them—

Native knitted and emerald green.

With tops like our flaming red sunsets.

Their like ne'er in Hollywood seen.

And just to complete this gay trousseau

Are moccasins, beaded darned fine.

Though the squaw, with the contract to do so,

Queried: "Who said YOUR size was a nine?"

But again I'm away from the main thing—

It's the Youkon, with breast in a vice,

While the dogs, like the birds on a free wing.

With the sleds, speed along on the ice.
